LOCAL AREA

This town has something for all ages. A must-see is the impressive Spanish Fort El Morro located on the north side of the islet. Old San Juan itself consists of narrow streets encompassing over four hundred years of history and tradition—and Sheraton Puerto Rico Hotel & Casino is just five minutes from this exciting historic section. Dine in one of the celebrated establishments on Fortaleza Street, party in San Sebastián until dawn, or simply stroll along the charming, storied avenues and thoroughfares. As in Europe, a local tradition in Old San Juan is to people-watch, and there is no better place to indulge in this activity than from one of the several plazas that are located throughout the city.

For a dose of nature and sparking Puerto Rican sun, beautiful beaches with clear blue water surround the island and the joy of sand and surf is just moments away. The beaches at Isla Verde are minutes away by car while the internationally famous surf spot Rincón is a three-hour drive. Tours to bioluminescent bays in Fajardo (about 45 min.) can be set up through the our concierge as well.

ABOUT SAN JUAN

San Juan is a city of dichotomies - Spanish and English, Puerto Rican and American, Ancient and Modern. To understand the city like a Sanjuanero, one must understand the symbiotic relationship between each of the city's districts. Old San Juan is the historic heart of the city. Spanish colonial homes dating back hundreds of years border plazas with statues honoring Christopher Columbus, among others. In sharp contrast, the city's Condado, Ocean Park and Isla Verde sections of town are 100% modern glitz and glamour. Comparable to Miami Beach and Las Vegas, these regions are home to the high-rise hotels, beaches and casinos prized by tourists from around the world. The Hato Rey area is as contemporary as any large city's financial district. Referred to as the "Wall Street of the West Indies" the "Golden Mile" is home to many world banks and much of the money in the Caribbean filters through here at one time or another. Further to the south is Rio Piedras where the University of Puerto Rico makes its home. With over 25,000 students, this vibrant center for learning energizes the city. Santurce and Miramar are two of San Juan's residential districts. Upscale Miramar sits next to bohemian Santurce, where many experimental art galleries and funky cafes are located. With so much to offer visitors, it is no surprise that this booming city is an internationally popular destination for both business and leisure.
